The tsunami effect, charted

Posted by Izabella Kaminska on May 13 16:29.

In the days immediately following the twin earthquake and tsunami disasters in Japan, there was much speculation about how big the impact might be on the country's trade and exports.

Now thanks to Sean Corrigan, chief investment strategist at Diapason Commodities, we have it charted:

Roughly the biggest divergence between in exports and imports since the 2008 financial crisis.
